

From: Simon Fuller
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 12/6/01 7:09pm
Subject: Microsoft

I was disappointed to read about the conclusion of the microsoft case.

As an IT Specialist for 16 years I have seen the demise of peoples choices for operating systems and applications. When I started out the operating systems were less sophisticated , but at least you could choose based on its features rather than be forced to stay with one brand. In the past years I have seen Microsoft deliberately kill dos compatibles like dr-dos and in last few years OS/2, I wonder if they will attempt a similar strategy against linux? If they do, this surely cannot go unpunished?

I hope that if Microsoft continue reducing choice (like removing any java compatibility) that this case is reviewed.

Simon Fuller

This email and any files transmitted with it are confidential and may be privileged and intended solely for the use of the individual or entity to whom they are addressed.

If you have received this in error please notify me immediately.

If you are not the intended recipient of this email or the person responsible for delivering it to them you may not copy it , forward it or otherwise use it for any purpose or disclose its contents to any other person. To do so may be unlawful.

Get your FREE download of MSN Explorer at <http://explorer.msn.com/intl.asp>